Every disease has its own starting point.

Any injury, emotional shock, infection, surgical procedure, or pathological process originates at a specific moment in time. According to Triorigin theory, this moment carries a unique energetic characteristic that determines the condition's development, the body's response, and the course of the healing process.

Triorigin Chronopuncture is the science that studies these energetic patterns and the methods of applying them. Rather than limiting itself to treating symptoms, Triorigin Chronopuncture offers a systemic approach to exploring the energetic interrelationship between Time, Space, and the Human Being, enabling practitioners to integrate an understanding of Time Energies into advanced Su Jok therapy methods.

This discipline, based entirely on the original teachings of Professor Park Jae Woo, is one of the most advanced and rarely taught branches of Triorigin science.

Professor Park Jae Woo considered Triorigin Chronopuncture to be the supreme method of Consciousness treatment.

Why Triorigin Chronopuncture?

Modern medicine often asks the question:

"Where is the disease localized?"

Triorigin Chronopuncture poses an additional question:

"When did the energy imbalance arise?"

Online Webinar

Within the framework of Triorigin theory, time is not merely a sequence of hours and dates; it is viewed as an active energy dimension that continuously interacts with living systems.

Every year, month, day, and hour—like other time intervals—possesses its own specific energy characteristics. These temporal energies influence physiological functions, pathological processes, and the body's response to therapy.

Triorigin Chronopuncture offers structured calculation methods that enable practitioners to:

- Calculate dominant energies associated with significant life events.
- Integrate calculations with practical clinical decision-making.
- Analyse the energetic characteristics of specific moments in time.
- Select the appropriate joint meridian and determine precise treatment points.
- Harmonize both the energetic cause and its current manifestations.
- Apply precise treatment strategies based on time analysis.
- Choose the optimal time for treatment.
- Carry out harmonization according to Triorigin principles.
- Choose various chronopuncture techniques depending on the clinical situation.

This transforms the treatment approach, shifting it from a purely spatial one to a method that integrates both space and time.

What You Will Learn ?

During this intensive five-day program, participants will progressively master the complete system of Triorigin Chronopuncture.

The curriculum includes:

Foundations of Triorigin Chronopuncture

- Time as an energetic dimension
- Triorigin Model influencing human life
- Nature and characteristics of time
- Influence of time on health and disease
- Classification of Triorigin Chronopuncture methods

Chronopuncture Calculations

Master systematic calculations for standard time units:

- Year
- Month
- Day
- Hour
- Narrow-focus calculations down to five-minute intervals

It is also possible to determine the temporal energy characteristics of seasons and periods lasting 4, 8, and 16 years, as well as "non-standard" time intervals such as 1.5 months, six months, and 2 years.

These calculations enable identification of the dominant energetic influences associated with significant events.

Advanced Chronopuncture Methods

- Fixed (Neuto) Triorigin Chronopuncture
- Objective (Homo) Triorigin Chronopuncture

Online Webinar

- Subjective (Hetero) Triorigin Chronopuncture
- Combined (Neutro) Triorigin Chronopuncture
- Rhythm 16 and Rhythm 32 calculations
- Embryonic Triorigin Chronopuncture
- Perfect Triorigin Chronopuncture
- Selecting the optimal treatment time
- Congenital and acquired Triorigin constitution

Clinical Applications :

Practical exercises in chronological calculations will be conducted using examples from the audience.

Please prepare information in advance regarding the dates and times of surgeries, injuries, the onset or exacerbation of illnesses, and the timing of stressful or significant events in your own life and the lives of your patients. Information regarding the patient's date of birth will also be required for certain calculations.

Learning Outcomes

After completing this course, participants will be able to:

- Understand the influence of time energies within Triorigin Theory.
- Calculate dominant Triorigin energies for significant life events.
- Analyse the energetic characteristic associated with disease formation.
- Identify appropriate joint meridians and treatment points.
- Select optimal treatment timing using Chronopuncture principles.
- Apply Fixed, Objective, Subjective, Combined, and Embryonic Chronopuncture methods.
- Integrate time analysis into advanced Sujok clinical practice.
